

GETTING READY FOR THE 9TH ANNUAL ARCHITECTURAL DIGEST HOME DESIGN SHOW @ PIER 94

Posted February 23, 2010

By nancy

For 4 days only, March 18-21, get ready to be informed and inspired & explore the very latest ideas and products for the home —from furniture and lighting to kitchens and baths – at the Architectural Digest Home Design Show. Whether starting from scratch or searching for that one perfect object to complete a project, the show is organized with both design professionals and consumers in mind. It's one-stop- shopping with exhibits from almost 300 premium brands, and an antique/mid-century section presented by 1stdibs.com

And, if you need another reason to head for the Hudson in March, DIFFA's Dining By Design is not to be missed. It's an impressive showcase of creative talents and cutting-edge products! In addition, Go Green, the nation's leading eco-friendly trade and consumer showcase, runs concurrently March 18-21 at Pier 92.

WHERE: Pier 94, 12th Ave. @ 55th St., New York City

WHEN: Thursday – Sunday, March 18 – 21, 2010 from 10am – 6pm

Thursday, March 18 is trade preview day with programs geared specifically for the design trade. Admission throughout show hours is complimentary for registered interior designers and licensed architects with two forms of business credentials.